Dear Miss Tarbell:

I am wondering if it would be possible for you to give a one thousand to two thousand word summary of your remarks in discussion of Dr. Person's paper, "The Call for Industrial Leadership," at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Taylor Society.

I realize that this may be putting a burden upon you as you spoke from notes rather than from a manuscript. We should like very much, however, to be able to give our Bulletin readers the benefit of your particular thoughts on this subject, and hope that you can reconstruct a brief summary for us.

We appreciate very much your fine contribution to the success of the meeting.

Sincerely,

Helen A. Carnes
