Dear William Allen:

I am going to look up those Wilson notes as soon as I have a chance and write you something.

I am not going to put them down as fully as I might, for, like everybody else in the world, I have been contemplating an article on my impressions of Wilson, only I am going to allow the rest of you to get out of the way and then use all your thunder.

Yes, I received your letter about the jury of the Woodr Wilson Foundation, but nobody has written me. Of course I will serve if you wish me to. I would be very proud to do it. I don't know that I am available for I have never joined any of these things.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. William Allen White,
Emporia, Kansas.
