Miss Frances L. Garside,
53 Hamilton Terrace,
New York City.

My dear Miss Garside:

I have your letter of October 10 asking me to write the article for the newspaper syndicate which you say you are writing.

I am always glad when I can to help a fellow journalist, but I certainly consider it bad ethics to write their articles for them.

I wish you would consider the ethics of the thing seriously, my dear Miss Garside. They seem to me unsound.

Very truly yours,
