November 11, 1931.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

Mr. Moore telephoned from Baltimore (he's still there in the hospital) that he thought he could arrange an appointment with Governor Ritchie for you on Sunday, November 29th. The Governor is terribly busy just now and his time is very much crowded.

Mr. Moore wondered if you could get down to Baltimore on Saturday, November 28th and Mr. John E. Cullen, publisher of the Baltimore American and Baltimore News will meet you and give you all the advance information about Governor Ritchie you may require. Mr. Moore said he had to sidetrack the Frank Kent idea without explaining why it had to be sidetracked. But like Mr. Kent, Mr. Cullen has known Governor Ritchie for years.

Will you let me know if this is all right? I hate to ask you to go down over the weekend but a Sunday appointment seems to be the best we can do. Further details (about trains, etc.) can be filled in later.

Sincerely as always,

Oscar Graewe
