

Sept. 12, 1922

Dear Mrs. Colver:

I have your note of September 9, and am very glad to hear from you. I have thought of you often and wondered how things were going. I am very little in New York, however, I was away all of last winter and have been here very irregularly since then so that I lose touch with many people; but I do not forget.

It is hard to believe that Alice is thinking of college and making sketches with an eye to their publication. I wish I knew more about placing material like hers. St. Nicholas, published by the Century Company, used to publish many sketches by boys and girls and I think paid some small sum for them. The best I can do, I think, is to make some inquiries, and that I will do at once, and let you know the result.

Encourage Alice to keep up her sketching. If she has a real bent for that sort of thing it will be worth her while to cultivate it.

Cordially yours,

Mrs. Josephine L. Colver,
411 W. 129 St.,
New York City.
