A PITCHERS' BATTLE IN WHICH GRIFFITH HAD ALL THE BETTER OF IT—ALLEGHENY PLAYS AN ERRORLESS GAME—THE FASTEST GAME ON HOME GRUND FOR YEARS.

It was with fear and trembling that our base ball enthusiasts gathered in Athletic park on Tuesday afternoon expecting to witness the usual defeat which Grove City generally has up her sleeve for us when we meet her base ball team on the diamond. But the fearful ones had not counted on Griffith, our one-armed phenom, and as the game progressed the look of astonishment which gradually crept into the faces of the crowd was worth photographing. As Griffith kept speeding a ball over the plate that looked no bigger than a good-sized marble and which landed in Mook's mit with the report of a rifle, and the Grove City batteries were either fanning the warm air after the ball was safely in Mook's possession or were falling down in attempting to get out of the way of Griff's. phenomenal out curves, the crowd in the grand-stand began to blink and to awake to the fact that they were being treated to as fine an article of base ball as is generally played in colleges. One portly enthusiast was overheard to remark from the grand-stand: "Say, what would that pitcher do if he had only one leg?"

But while Griff was putting up a gilt-edged article of ball, the team back of him was ably supporting him. The infield was working like clockwork and the outfield was gathering in almost everything that was gatherable.

The only thing that looked like an error was En Dean's misjudging a fly in center field, which was entirely excuseable. Leffingwell in left field played a phenomenal game, gathering in a number of long drives which looked like sure hits. Haas played a fine game at short and did a particularly brilliant act, in breaking down a line drive over second base.

Griffith not only pitched good ball, letting Grove City down with three hits and having eleven strike-outs, but fielded his position in a brilliant manner, having four assists, one put-out and one hit to his credit.

In the pitching department, Bonnett also did clever work. He has not only phenomenal speed but very deceptive cures, and uses good judgment at all stages of the game. Capt. Turner and En Dean were the only members of our team who seemed to be able to connect safely with his delivery. The team back of him played good, snappy ball with the exception of one inning. In fact, the game throughout was fast and snappy and the best exhibition of base ball seen on the local grounds for many seasons. The game in detail was as follows:

The first inning belonged to Griffith as the two first batters struck out and the third man knocked a fly which Griffith cleverly grabbed with his one hand and relieved the strain of the minds of the many rooters who had never seen him field his position.

Turner, the first man up for Allegheny, got his base, but the next three batters were easy outs and he never scored further than the first corner.

In the second, Lackay and Haas fielded the first two batters out by cleverly scooping the grounders and throwing them out at first. The next man flew to Leffingwell, who made a running catch and received a hand from the crowd. Leffingwell and Mook each got their base in the second but never scored, as the next three men struck out. The first two men in the third struck out, but Allebach, by a hit that should have been an easy out, scored a three-bagger. Haas handled the next batter's swift grounder and the inning ended.

Allegheny started the scoring in their half of the third. Turner doubled and scored on Endean's single. Lewis singled but no more runs were made, as the next three batters were easy outs. In the next three innings the visitors went out in one- two- three order, but 19 men facing Griffith in the entire six innings, eight of whom fanned the air.

In the fourth, Griffith was loudly applauded for his good work when he came to the bat and at once responded by a hit over second. Turner advanced him two bases by a hit to right field and on Endean's single the second run of the game was made by Griffith. There was "nothin' doin'" in the next two innings and the score stood 2-0.

In the seventh Grove City scored their only runs. Griff. gave his first base on balls and the second batter struck out, but Mook dropped the strike, the runner going to third. Both scored on Galbrath's pretty double to left center.

Not to be outdone the Allegheny boys scored four in the seventh. Turner, the first man up, got to first on an error. Endean did the same and all hands were safe on Lewis' short hit which should have been an easy out. Leffingwell by a hard drive to right field scored Endean and Turner and a moment later scored with Lewis on the third baseman's error. In the next inning Allegheny had two men on bases but were unable to score.

In Grove City's half of the eighth they scored their third hit, but the runner was forced at second and the next two batters were easy. In the ninth inning Griffith repeated his performance in the first inning by retiring all three men. Two were thrown out at first by him and one was struck out.

Allegheny did not play her half of the ninth.

Commencement Concert.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 18, IN THE NEW CHAPEL—A RARE TREAT—ALL SHOULD TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE OPPORTUNITY OF HEARING MME. CHARLOTTE MACONDA.

One of the most prominent features of this year's commencement will be the annual Glee Club concert. Last year the Club was assisted in their annual concert by Madame Schurman Heink, the world-renowned contralto. This year the management has been as fortunate in being able to secure as the soloist the noted prima donna, Charlotte Maconda, perhaps the greatest concert singer of the day. The Glee Club has been doing work of a very high order this year and will undoubtedly give a fine concert at commencement time. Their program consists of light and amusing numbers as well as some heavier work. Their program this year will include the Pilgrim's Chorus from Tannhauser. The Club surely deserves the hearty support of the student body. The management will be at an expense of several hundred dollars for the services of Mme. Maconda as well as having the director of the year to pay. It will take a six hundred dollar house to clear expenses, and that means that the Club must have the enthusiastic support of the entire student body. Each student can help by doing a little advertising on his own account.

Tennis Association.

A TENNIS ASSOCIATION WAS ORGANIZED FRIDAY MORNING, OFFICERS ELECTED, ETC.

On Friday morning after chapel a meeting was called of all those interested in tennis. The object of the meeting was to organize a tennis association. A. G. Williams was elected president, R. N. Taylor secretary and treasurer and Messrs. Dewey, Hayes and Griffith were appointed on the executive committee. Already fifty-one members have joined the association. The fee is 25 cents.

A tournament will be held and as unusual interest has been manifest in tennis this year the tournament should be of unusual interest. It is urged that all persons interested in tennis join the Association in order to get in the tournament.

During the past week we have won two splendid victories in base ball. Grove City went down to defeat before us for the first time in years. Westminster did likewise, for the second time this season. We may well be proud of our team's record, no games lost on our home grounds, and only two college games lost during the season thus far. W. V. U. is not to be considered as it is generally understood that that school employs professionals. We lost one game to W. & J. after winning two from her and we lost one to Waynesburg. The record of our team is one to be proud of. Coach Buckley surely deserves much credit for the success of the team; he has had nothing but unexperienced material to work with and not an over abundant supply of that. Yet the team has won all of our most important games. We feel that a vote of thanks is due Mr. Buckley for his faithful consistent work and hope that we will be able to procure his services another season.

Commencement is near at hand; the college year will soon be numbered among the historic ones of the college; a few more days' work and the Seniors will bid farewell to the old college. It occurs to us that this year's commencement should excel all commencements the college has seen up to this time. It seems that we should have a larger number of our alumni with us than ever before. Excursion rates have been procured, a commencement program of unusual interest is being prepared, the alumni ought to be with us and want to be. It is now up to us to convince them that they can be. We feel that the fraternities should make especial effort to get a very large number of their alumni back this year. If they are to see the Allegheny of their memory, this is the year for them to be here. Who can tell what will take place on our campus during another year. It will take but a few years such as the present year has been to work such a change in our campus that the old Allegheny will scarcely be recognizable. Let us make every effort to have a host of alumni at this commencement of our "New Alleghe."

Allegheny 13, Westminster 12.

ALLEGHENY TAKES ANOTHER GAME FROM WES. MINSTER, THIS TIME AT WESTMINSTER. THE GAME A WALK AWAY FOR OUR BOYS UNTIL THE SEVENTH INNING AND THEN THE BALOON WENT UP.

On Saturday afternoon our base ball team succeeded in winning from Westminster at New Wilmington, a thing that has always been most difficult to do. The first six innings of the game were rather uninteresting, as the game was very much one-sided. The score at the beginning of the eighth inning stood 6-1 in favor of Allegheny, but Westminster never knows when she is defeated and thus for the remaining three innings things were rather interesting to say the least.

Griffith did the work in the box for Allegheny, and though he was a little wild he pitched a good game. In the eighth inning he succeeded in striking out three men in succession, pitching but eleven balls.

During the game he had eight strike-outs and allowed but seven hits.

Mook did good work with the stick, getting two doubles. Haas pitched in hard luck. The left fielder remembered how he had hit the ball when Westminster played here, and was laying for him. When Haas would come to the bat the left fielder would sprint back and stand on the fence. By so doing he gathered in three drives from Haas's bat which looked sure for home runs. Haas finally fooled him by lining one out in another direction, going as far as second to give him the laugh. The game throughout was most exciting. Allegheny began the fun in the first half of the first inning by getting three runs. Lewis, Fletcher and Leffingwell filled the bases after two men were out. Mook came to the bat with his usual grin and drove a hole in the air over second base, scoring all the men.

Westminster could do nothing until the second, when they were allowed to chalk up a big unearned run. In the third our boys worked the scoreman to the extent of three runs, but nothing was doing until the sixth. At this stage of the game there was a mighty calm and both teams thought it a most favorable oportunity for a balloon ascension and the strings were all cut and up she went higher than the fleecy clouds. While Westminster watched the floating sphere our boys trotted around the diamond and persuaded the scoreman to put down three more straight ones in the run column, but right here the balloon attracted the attention of our boys, and so intent was their gaze upon the upward floating sphere that they allowed the Westminster boys to work the scoreman almost to death, and before the balloon disappeared beyond the fleecy clouds Westminster had chalked up six straight ones. The score now stood 7-9 in favor of Allegheny. Apparently Westminster was still looking for the reappearance of the balloon in the seventh as our boys galloped around the bases for three more. A little burst of adverse wind drove the balloon back through the clouds during the eighth and our boys were intent upon it while the scoreman, now panting for breath, had jotted down five more for Westminster.

Griffith now forgot about the balloon and sailed the silvery sphere over the home plate, while three of Westminster's men were fanning up a good stiff breeze. The score now stood 12-13 in favor of Allegheny. In her part of the ninth Allegheny could do nothing but Westminster succeeded in getting a man as far as third with two men out. Griffith slowly surveyed the field and noticed occosional upward glances as if that balloon was going to again attract attention. He decided to run the affair himself and concluded the program by striking the last man out.

Allegheny Wins Another Game.

SLIPPERY ROCK NORMAL GOES DOWN IN AN EXCITING GAME. SCORE, 4-5.

And Alegheny's record on her home grounds is still a clean one.

Monday's game was without doubt one of the best games ever witnessed in Meadville. The game throughout was replete with brilliant plays, both teams playing phenomenal ball. But the real battle was on between the pitchers. Griffith, when once warmed up, was in fine shape, having good control, sharp curves and plenty of speed. He had the better of the argument up until the ninth inning, when he seemed to let down a little. And by the way, that man Davis is a twirler from the word go. He showed remarkable coolness throughout the game and served up a most deceptive ball.

That Allegheny won was largely due to opportune hitting and what we are pleased to call luck. But such work as our team put up yesterday will win nine out of ten college games. Griffith's support was almost faultless and had he been a little more careful in the ninth the game would have stood 3-1 in favor of Allegheny. In baseball it never pays to get careless until the last man is out in the ninth inning. It would be hard to say who was the bright particular star. Cormley at second put up a remarkable game and his stop of a fast one from Capt. Turner's bat in the sixth was phenomenal. The work of Cashdollar in middle and of Schaub in left was gilt-edged. It seemed impossible to get anything safe in their fields.

Davis was the only man who could get anything safe off Griffith's delivery and he succeeded in getting a couple of nice clean hits.

For Allegheny all of the team played fine ball. The infield worked like machinery and everything was taken care of in the outfield. The boys hit just when hits meant runs, and ran bases in a very creditable manner.

In the eighth inning quite a kick was raised on a decision by Umpire Taylor. The captains of the respectives teams had agreed to allow but one base on a passed ball. In the eighth inning one got away from Mook and the man on third came in as did also the man from second. Capt. Turner appealed to Umpire Taylor to enforce the ground concerning a passed ball which he promptly did, sending the last runner back to third. This decision raised quite a kick. Again, in the ninth, things were interesting for the umpire. Turner hit to deep center and Lackey and Brice started for home. While the umpire was watching for the ball Lackey collided with Slippery Rock's catcher and Brice scored easily. The Normal boys insisted that Lackey be called out for interfering with the catcher. As Umpire Taylor did not see the alleged interference he could not possibly make such a decision and again the Normal boys set up a howl. And, by the way, it would look a little more as if the members of our team had seen a ball game before if they would quit this senseless kicking on decisions made by the home umpire. He is not infallible, but makes his decision according to his first impression and that settles it. It sounds strange to hear men kicking about a called strike which cut the corner when they repeatedly swing at balls which could not be touched with a ten-foot pole. The game in detail was as follows:

The visitors started the scoring in the first inning. Bard was hit and scored on Davis' pretty double. They did not score again until the ninth. Allegheny did not score until the third. In that inning Endean walked in front of an in-shoot and got his base. Lewis, as usual, banged the ball at the right time and before it reached the infield he was on second and Endean had scored the first run. Epright swung at a wild pitch, which was the third strike, and at once proceeded to steal second. On Leffingwell's clean single both Epright and Lewis scored. This made the score 3 to 1, and so it remained until the last inning. When the ninth come most of the spectators had folded their score cards and were waiting for the usual one, two, three order of retirement. But here was where they were fooled. The best part of the game was yet to come.

Cashdollar, the first man up, banged a hard one to Lackey who flelued it low to first. The runner was safe. Schaub got in front of a pitched ball and went to second. The next man flew out to Leffingwell. Bingham saw that his only chance to get to first was by being hit, so he allowed himself to get soaked with an in-shoot.

The crowd were still hopeful but when Mook dropped a pitched ball, allowing a score and a moment later McDonald cracked out a single, the crowd became anxious. A wild pitch let in another man and the score stood 4 to 3 in favor of the visitors.

Allegheny still had another turn at the bat but the weak end of the team was up. Lackey, however, started Allegheny's stock to boom by getting hit. Haas struck out and Brice, who took Griffith's place at the bat, duplicated Lackey's performance. There were now two on bases and Capt. Turner at the bat. The crowd was pulling hard for a victory and Turner was begged to save the day. Two strikes were called before he finally got what he wanted, but when it did come, what a crash there was. The ball went sailing to middle field and Brice and Lackey came tearing in. Turner landed on third and it was all over except the last faint kick of the losers.

It was an exceptionally fine game as a glance at the score card will show. But four errors were made, two by each side. For the visitors Cromley did some good fielding while the batting and pitching of Davis was of a high order.

All of Allegheny's players did well. Endean at second and Haas at short fielded well while Lewis and Endean each pulled two hits out of the contest.

Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening seems to meet the approval of the young men of the student body. The Y. M. C. A. room will hold just a few more.

Our alumni editors have awakened from their long sleep. It is to be hoped that they can be induced to remain awake for the remainder of the year.

During one of the quiet spells yesterday the Campus Board left the office in charge of the office-boy and retired to Trowbridge's soda fountain. The sporting editor with his usual recklessness dropped a nickle in the wheel of fortune and as a result the board was able to drink twice around for the price of one soda. We mention this as an additional proof that the Campus is a winner.

Capt. J. K. Cree spent several days in the city last week, and was an interested visitor to the campus. Capt. Cree was in college the winter of '78-'79 and had charge of the batallion here during the years from '90-'93. Since that time his faithful attendance to duty has been recognized, and he is now the adjutant of the artillery district of New London which district includes the five forts controlling the east entrance to Long Island Sound. His headquarters at present are at Fort Trumbull.

Genuine Panamas, Knox Straws and all the swell shapes at Mendel Bros.

Anyone finding a Waterman's fountain pen will please notify the manager of the Campus.

The work on the library is progressing rapidly and the end of the term should see that building nearly completed.

The past week has made a great change in the new buildings at the campus. The large stained glass windows are almost in place in the Ford Chapel and the interior of the building is about complete. The pews which arrived over a week ago will be in place by the end of the week and all will be in readiness for occupancy before the end of the term.

Ossoli's Edition of Literary Monthly.

THIS MONTH'S EDITION OF THE LITERARY MONTHY TO BE EDITED BY THE GIRLS.

To-morrow morning the May edition of the Literary Monthly will appear. This edition is edited by the girls of the Ossoli Literary Society. Doubtless the magazine will be of a high literary character, as the girls of the society generally do things right. The price will be 15 cents. No one can afford to be without one.

Y. M. C. A.

Monday evening, May 19, was the date of the first Association meeting held since it was decided to change from Saturday to Monday. A noticeable feature in the number present was the number of men not usually in attendance, men who found Saturday evening inconvenient. We welcome all men to our Monday evening Association meetings and we are confident that the few remaining services will be even better than those already held. You men can help bring this about by your presence and support.

Mr. Park, who came to us in the interest of Student Volunteer Movement, led the meeting in Y. M. C. A. Hall on week ago Monday and his strength and practical enthusiasm won the attention and respect of all. We are glad he came to us.

Watch for the announcement of a popular Y. M. C. A. lecture. The date is not far distant. The lecture will be a favorite.

Y. M. C. A. men are not asleep. Departments are all busy and will be all summer. Not eve-droppers but due-gatherers are after you. Beware!

We welcome signs of missionary activity and interest reviving in Old Alleghe! Our college must not take second place in missions with a Bishop Thoburn in the field. Allegheny used to rank first.

THE KALDRON OF '02.

Work Progressing Rapidly—It Will Undoubtedly be One of the Most Interesting Kaldrons We Have Had For Years.

Over 150 pages of the Kaldron were printed last week and by the end of this week the last pages will be finished and sent to the bindery. The Kaldron will be a model of the printers' arts. Almost every page is relieved by an etching or a half-tone. The literary material is almost completed and during the week the work will be finished and in the hands of the pressmen. The Board of Editors promises the hottest Kaldron in years. Every person (or thing) that is worth mentioning at all has been scalded. Space was too valuable for compliments, and if you are not burned or roasted you are unmentioned.
