

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB PITTSBURGH

Saturday, July 7th.

My dear Miss Tarbell, The good news of your letter of July 6th that you can come to our club has sent me into an ecstasy of delight. For several years the Twentieth Century Club members have felt that their club life would reach its crowning glory only when Miss Tarbell honored it with her presence. Personally,

I have "bowed down and adored" with all the other hosts of women and men - and I cannot tell you how happy I am to know that you will lecture for us.

Your time, terms and subjects are all entirely agreeable to the Club. It will suit perfectly to have you on Wednesday morning, October thirty-first at eleven o'clock, which hour I hope will be convenient for you. We will be glad to share your travelling expenses with the "New England" women. That can be easily arranged as Mrs. David Lusk is also a member of the Twentieth Century Club and a personal friend of mine. As for subject, I am tempted to say that it doesn't make any difference what the subject is as long as it is you who are talking about it. Individually, I should prefer the "Abraham Lincoln as a Man of Letters" but with your consent I will withhold decision concerning this matter until the meeting of the Lecture Committee in September. The other members may wish a French topic although I am inclined to think that the majority will want the Lincoln lecture. Please let me know the latest date before which it will be necessary for you to know the subject desired.

And please let me say again how honored and fortunate I feel our Club to be in being able to have you. I'm afraid that most of us are not only hero- but heroine-worshippers. Sincerely yours Emmie D. Bradley
