Dear Miss Tarbell:

Kindly let this note serve two purposes.

First, an apology for not having acknowledged sooner the letter you so kindly prepared and supplied us some days ago. We have been taking special pains to get everything done in an attractive way and this has taken time.

Second, the paper and envelope are a sample of the special stock which we are using and on which your letter is being mailed this week. I trust it will please you.

It will be a pleasure to report to you the results of the mailing in the course of the next week.

Deeply appreciating your courtesy and help,
I am,

Sincerely yours,

Lewis B. Chamberlain
