My dear Miss Chase:

I have taken a vow to do no more speaking and kept it fairly well for the last two or three years, but your invitation is so cordial and my recollections of the Community Vesper services at your church are so pleasant, that I'm going to accept your invitation for the afternoon of February 12, 1933.

The Honorarium is quite satisfactory. Since I've left the lecture field, I do not stick at prices!

Looking forward to seeing you and meeting again the audience of the First Presbyterian Church, believe me,

Very sincerely yours,

Miss Helen D. Chase,
