

1897-05-29

Letter of Introduction: Geo. F. Hoar to John Hay, May 29, 1897

Hoar, George Frisbie

<http://hdl.handle.net/10456/19789>

This item is in the public domain.

All materials in the Allegheny College DSpace Repository are subject to college policies and Title 17 of the U.S. Code.

Worcester, Mass., May 29th., 1897.

My dear Mr. Hay:

I here commend to your kind attention my friend Miss Ida Tarbell. You undoubtedly know all about her excellent work in McClure's Magazine. She has made a new and most admirable study of Napoleon and exhumed a great deal of material unknown to the public.

She has also had much success, more than any other person living I think would have had, in gleaning after you for new material about Lincoln. I shall be much gratified by any kindness you may show her or help that you or Mr. White may give her.

I am, with highest regard,

faithfully yours,

Geo F Hoar