My dear Miss Tarbell:

When in New York last Saturday, I talked with Mrs. Calhoun and told her about my plans for your lecture in Pittsburg this fall; she seemed to think that perhaps you would not care to talk before a large audience, and I thought of calling on you at Bethel on Sunday, but as I shrink from breaking the quiet of Sunday, I decided to write to you.

The demand for tickets in Pittsburg for your lecture will be so great that I was advised to have you give it in Leavenworth Hall, and am about to make arrangements to that effect. You must be pleased however, since it will be against your wishes, I must change my plans. I do not know how far you will be willing to talk before all those who desire to hear you for you know that you are considered not only a friend but a protector to many people in that section of the country.
I can arrange for a much smaller hall and consequently for a much smaller audience if you so desire.
May I hear from you at once. An answer must be made soon for the fall.

Most cordially

Ella B. Kirk
