

THE EDITOR'S OFFICE
WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION
NEW YORK

November 17, 1939

Dear Miss Tarbell:

I saw Mr. John Phillips yesterday and he told me that you had some ideas for short articles that you thought might be good for Woman's Home Companion. I should be glad to hear from you about these. Possibly you may also have some ideas that may be suitable for the American or Collier's. If so, please send them along and I will submit them to Mr. Blossom and Mr. Chenery, if you wish me to do so.

I should like to have your name in the Woman's Home Companion and we are always in the market for special articles. Our space is rather limited owing to the falling off of advertising linage and I prefer to have the articles not much longer than 2500 words.

Sincerely yours,

Miss Ida M. Tarbell
