

Box 1374,
Boston, Mass.,
July 20, 1910.

Dear Miss Tarbell:—

I like the revised form of your introduction. The length is better suited for a prologue and you can work the omitted parts into your later discussion. You must have learned long ago, as I have, to look with entire complacency on the omission of parts from a particular article.

Yours faithfully
Jacob S. Dale,

You noticed of course one or two clerical errors or misprints.