My dear Miss Tarbell:

Your letter has just come, telling me of your sudden trip to Italy; and it gives me the greatest pleasure to send you the two enclosed letters which I trust will be of some service, although I feel sure that all doors would be open to you without any word from me. Knowing that you are a friend of Miss Wilson's, and that she is a host in herself, I did not of course send a letter to her; but with Sir Eric and Mr. Bullard, plus Miss Wilson, you have a strong trio, and should a happy fate make it possible for me to be in Geneva myself during the Assembly I will hope to supplement the letters.

I imagine your work will be interesting but that it will not be one which will appeal strongly to your sympathy. What a tangled skein there is to unwind in Italy!

I will deliver your message to my sister and know she will warmly appreciate your thought. She has been at Atlantic City for three weeks.

Trusting that your summer will be all that you hope and most rewarding as well as beneficial, believe me;

Faithfully yours,

Edith Bolling Wilson

(Mrs. Woodrow Wilson).
