

1927-02-26

Letter: J.C. Penney to Ida M. Tarbell, February 26, 1927

Penney, James Cash

---

<http://hdl.handle.net/10456/24075>

---

The J.C. Penney papers at DeGolyer Library, Southern Methodist University gives permission to Allegheny College to publish Mr. James Cash Penney's letters in The Documents of Ida M. Tarbell online collection.

All materials in the Allegheny College DSpace Repository are subject to college policies and Title 17 of the U.S. Code.

8 BELLE ISLE
MIAMI BEACH
FLORIDA

February 26, 1927.

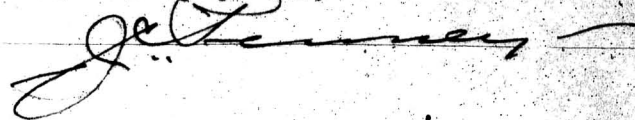

My dear Miss Tarbell:

Since writing the foregoing letter it has occurred to me that perhaps it would be possible for you to attend the dedication of the chapel of the memorial group. This is to be held the last Sunday in April.

This memorial group, as I explained to you, is in memory of my father and mother. The chapel is now nearly completed, and we expect that by the dedication date the organ will be installed.

So much has been accomplished at Penney Farms since the occasion of your former visit that I should very much like to have you see the great change that has taken place. If, therefore, you can see your way clear to visiting Penney Farms at the time of the dedication of the chapel, it would give me pleasure to have you present on that occasion.

Sincerely yours,

To
Miss Ida Tarbell,
120 East Nineteenth Street,
New York City.