Dear Sir:

The editor of the University of Michigan "Essay Annual - 1939" asks my permission to include in his book the essay "The Old Sewing Room" which appeared in the North American Review in the Spring number of 1938.

I have written him that he has my permission, but it would be necessary, I think, to have yours. Will you be good enough to let me know promptly if there are any objections or not?

Very truly yours
