

1938-08-29

Letter: Ida M. Tarbell to James Putnam, August 29, 1938

Tarbell, Ida M.

<http://hdl.handle.net/10456/25166>

Allegheny College. All rights reserved.

All materials in the Allegheny College DSpace Repository are subject to college policies and Title 17 of the U.S. Code.

August 29, 1938

Dear Mr. Putnam:

Take up the manuscript when the relatives have retired and the complications that their presence undoubtedly wrought in your program are straightened out then you can write me what you think or come over to lunch with me at the National Arts Club some day and we will talk it over. As for a contract I would rather you read the manuscript before we make one. You may think better of your offer when you have done that. I am not suggesting a better offer but leaving you a loop hole to escape a contract.

Cordially yours

Mr. A. J. Putnam
60 Fifth Avenue
New York City