May 12, 1926

Dear Mr. Tarkell,

I am very grateful to you for your helpful criticism. I am trying to cure the defects as you suggest. It seems to me that the Lay Law... should follow the chapter dealing with the allowed in the Constitution in the 5th Amendment. I'll combine the article on the Constitution of the world of the end of the 18th century with the article on Human Covenants.
It is not hard to follow your suggestions.

Faithfully,

Emmett Jones

[Signature]