Dear Sir:

I have just received from my brother, William W. Tarbell, of Easton, Conn., copy of an editorial which you published Monday, February 13 - "A Tribute to Lincoln."

Naturally it touched me deeply. I would like to feel that the story in the way that it has been given over the radio in the past five years has created an illusion of the man and the time as complete as you think. I have heard a great deal from the broadcasting this year but nothing that compared with your editorial. Would it be possible for me to have a half dozen copies of the Bridgeport Times-Star? I should like to send them to a few particularly interested people.

Very sincerely yours
