

January 17, 1927.

Mr. Warren C. Crane,
235 West 75th Street,
New York City.

My dear Mr. Crane:

Thank you for the Lincoln clippings that you have sent to me. I shall be glad to include them among my files.

You say you have a Lincoln collection of the late Judge Ryan. I should be glad to call to look at it, but at the present time I am very much engaged and I am afraid I shall be obliged to put it off until later in the season.

Sincerely yours,

IMT BAK.
