Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
120 East 19th. St.,
New York, N.Y.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

You were good enough to advise me some time ago regarding certain phases of Abraham Lincoln's religious beliefs because of a controversy I had gotten into with some Southern folks.

As a patent attorney I further became interested in the matter of Mr. Lincoln's experience as an inventor and as this seemed interesting to the patent fraternity, I published a little booklet thereon.

While there is nothing particularly new about it, I am taking the liberty of sending you a copy.

Sincerely,

F.A.
