Dear Miss Tarbell:

I have at last received photostatic copies (negatives) of those Simonds letters. Mr. Lyons has been very busy on account of the moving of his office and because of all the details incident to the new army set-up. He says that he did not get my first request (dated February 13th).

Knowing that you are waiting for this material, I am sending the negatives to you, without taking the time to have positives made. I don't think you will have much difficulty with them. Simonds was an excellent penman. When you have finished with the photostats, I should like to have them back for my files. I hope they may be of service to you. They come to you under separate cover in the same mail as does this letter.

With regards, I am

Yours sincerely,

G. S. Bryan
