Dear Miss Tarbell:

Thank you for your check. I was very glad to hear from you, but sorry to learn that you had been ill. I hope that you have completely recovered by this time.

Carl Sandburg told me not long ago that you were at work upon a continuation of the Standard Oil history. I hope that you go ahead with it rapidly. For in spite of Charles A. Beard's remarks, I look upon it as one of the real landmarks in industrial history.

Sincerely yours,

Paul M. Angle
