My dear Mrs. Clark:

I have just returned from several weeks work out of town and find in my cumulative mail your note of March 24th.

Of course, you can use any quotation that you wish from any Lincoln book of mine and proud I shall be to have you do it. It is necessary, however, to use the name of the publisher in giving credit - Macmillan Company. That need not be done, however, on the page. I think all that would be necessary would be noted in your page of credits.

With all good wishes

Very sincerely yours
