Dear Miss Tarbell:

It was very kind of you to send me such a lovely letter about my interpretation of your Billy Brown, and I am deeply appreciative. Every year I find new beauties in this Lincoln masterpiece, which I have repeatedly stated to be not only the finest portrait of Lincoln ever made but the most perfect picture of any man ever written. I believe it will outlast our most beautiful building, - the Lincoln Memorial; and I am always so happy to read it. I enjoyed meeting your brother and wish you might have been there with us. Three hard boiled boosters of our pleasure city gave Billy Brown a great ovation.

With the warmest regard and admiration I am

Yours faithfully

Edgar W. Burnett.
