

November 8, 1930

Dear Miss Chittenden:

I have your very kind note of November Third, inviting me to speak at the Lincoln Dinner to be held at the Women's National Republican Club on February Eleventh. I would be so glad to accept that invitation if it were possible - I am on a diet. But it is out of the question, I am leaving early in February for the West, not to return for a number of weeks. You see I cannot speak for you, as I am to be in New Mexico at that time. Regretting that I must say no and thanking you for the invitation, believe me, dear Miss Chittenden

Very sincerely yours

Honored by it.
