Dear Mr. Angle:

I am ashamed of the long delay in replying to your note telling me that I was behind in my dues to the Abraham Lincoln Association.

I went to Arizona early in February, my bills in my pocket, and promptly fell ill - did nothing more than was required by a contract I had for some work in the University. When your letter reached me I at once wrote a check and yesterday found that I had not sent it. Please pardon the delay. I should dislike very much to be dropped from your list. I value your publications.

Very sincerely

Mr. Paul Angle
