New York City.

My Dear Miss Tarbell:-

Your very courteous letter of February 27th was received, and yesterday your thoughtful remembrance of us of your two books also came.

We not only wish to thank you for your kind thoughtfulness of us, but we also wish you to know that we shall always deem it a privilege to have met and known you. Contact with people has considerable to do in the shaping of lives and their destiny.

We are deeply grateful to you for both your visit to us and the books. They will be opened with expectation and I am sure they will be closed with profit.

Very respectfully and sincerely yours,
