Mr. William L. Brunyate,
605 Broad St.
Newark, N. J.

Dear Mr. Brunyate:

Of course you have my permission to quote anything that I said to you in regard to your Lincoln portrait. I held it very high indeed. The longer I study it the more impressed I am by it. I have the print you sent me over my desk for some days now and like it better every time I look at it.

I shall be glad to know what Meserve thinks of it.

I am wondering if you would be willing to have it published in a magazine, with whatever credit you might desire of course. I should say a good historical note. I nearly always have an article or two ready for the special Lincoln numbers in February, and I shall be mighty proud to use this picture next February, but please, dear Mr. Brunyate, do not say yes if you have any mental reservations whatsoever about its publication.

Very sincerely yours,

had
