

Place Wreath on Lincoln Statue

Boy Scouts joined the Lincoln Association and admirers of the Great Emancipator when a memorial wreath was placed on the statue at the entrance to Lincoln Park, Jersey City, yesterday. J. Owen Grundy, a descendant of Lincoln, stood at the foot of the monument, while Rudy Johnson, left, and Stephen Andrews, right, climbed to the Emancipator's knee to get a close-up. Scouts George Pawlo, left, and Scout George Palmer, right, of Troop 22, stand guard.

I thought you might find this interesting used in it 1934.
Or did I send you
one of these before?
Sincerely,

J. Owen Grundy
