Dear Miss Tarbell:

I was very much interested in your letter which, unfortunately, was delayed in reaching me.

Francis Wiley's Lincoln story was reprinted in the Kentucky Progress Magazine from the Herald-Post of Louisville and the photographs were taken under Mr. Wiley's direction. He is greatly pleased that you are interested in his article and is having a set of the photographs printed for you. I believe he is writing to you today.

While I am writing I can not resist telling you that one of my happiest memories is that of meeting you several years ago when you were the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fuller Callaway in LaGrange, Georgia. I was just out of college and was heroine-worshipping you quite actively even before I met you and heard you talk. I have told the Rices of that experience and Mrs. Rice and I talked of it again today as we had lunch together.

I hope the pictures will reach you in good time.

Sincerely,

Barbara Tunnell Anderson
