My dear John Tarbell,
I have arrived my only brother James. He had lived together forty-seven years and as the years passed we seemed to become more and more of one mind—the beautiful things in life we loved and enjoyed together.
He was eighty-seven, with mind clear as crystal.

He was such a good man—full of faith, and a devoted Pomonia—
I am so grateful that year, who have been so dear and kind. I will be grieved.

My love

Jane E. Hamane
