By far the most notable attempt which has been published so far this year in honor of the one hundred and twenty-five years of Abraham Lincoln's birth is Geo and Frederick's "Ancestry of Abraham Lincoln". The authors, after performing several unpublished searches, have drawn and here publish conclusions which carry back the lineage ancestry of Lincoln four generations further than heretofore established. The show by direct and indirect evidence that the Lincoln family had substantial claim to be numbered among the Jewish family and that of Samuel Lincoln the great-great-grandfather of President Lincoln did come to this country as a merchant and learned person in the American pedigree and connection.

They are able, by documentary evidence, to prove the unique fact in the American chain: i.e., that Abraham Lincoln's grandmother, the mother of Thomas, Shipley

Lincoln was not Mary Shipley as Henderson believed but Batthubard Herrington's second wife. They had valuable information about Cognac-American families all of which helps place the Lincolns in that milieu and enquiring persons claim to which they really belonged.
Of the culture left, left a few points unsatisfied that are minor points- mere baubles for future genealogists and are not clearly indicated as to be easily attached not the least merit of the writing political or social in its standard-in its surprising intellectual fragments.

The material is presented with much clarity and will so much pride and pleasure vie the back of the authors had set themselves- a patriotic sermon. They endlessly felt it as it was- that we would from which I feel will deepen my satir-

The Public still do not know the extent of all Lincoln threw for the Lincoln centennial.
They have made it known as if they had included their of their contributions to the Lincoln centennial.