Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
New York, N. Y.

Dear Madam:

I have mislaid your Street address and I am mailing this to New York City, knowing that the postal authorities will find you.

I am enclosing herewith a copy of a Prospectus for a new Bibliography of Lincoln literature and I know you will be interested in it, perhaps not sufficiently interested to subscribe for the work, but I certainly would be pleased to have you in the "List of Subscribers" for more reasons than one. One reason is that your name occupies more than two pages in the new Bib. and I want to be careful as I want to list all of your Lincoln publications. If it is not putting you to too much trouble, I would like to have you give me a list of them so I may verify them with my list for I don't want to omit any.

You will perhaps remember me, I having had the pleasure of meeting you when you were at Moline six years ago last winter, and then you spent an hour or two in my Lincoln Library.

I have just placed an order for your last book which must certainly be an excellent one. The price is $4.00.

Most respectfully,

JBO/K

J. B. Oakleaf
