The Campus: May 11, 1905
The debate between Allegheny and Washington and Jefferson College was held on April 17th, 1896. The debate was held in the Student Union of Allegheny College, held in Braddock Hall during the previous year. The debate was intended to be a friendly and competitive event, with the goal of enhancing the skills of the debaters and promoting a spirit of healthy competition.

The debate was divided into three parts: the opening statement, the rebuttal, and the closing statement. Each team had three minutes to present their case, and the audience was encouraged to ask questions and engage in a lively discussion.

The debate was judged by a panel of experts, who evaluated the debaters' arguments, reasoning, and delivery. The judges were: Dr. Frank Lockwood, Dr. J. M. Casey, and Dr. H. F. Groves. The judges were unanimous in their decision, awarding the victory to Allegheny College.

The debate was a success, and the debaters were commended for their skills and professionalism. The event was well attended, with a large crowd of students and faculty in attendance.

It's The Place Where College Boys

LIKE TO BUY THEIR Clothing and Furnishings, and do they buy them there. This place has been the college boy's alter ego and it is more popular than ever this season—for many reasons. First, because they are used as they like to be used; because they are needed. Clothing and Furnishings for Young Men; and College Men; because we have extra style if you want it.

Here is what we've done since college closed last fall term. We've taken the second floor of the block and remodeled it. Now you can get clothes in a clothing store as you've done in any city and this improvement gives us four times the room that we had last term. We have four times the stock of clothing and furnishings that we had
