left. As a member of the Tribune war staff he rode out from Culpepper with the division of the army, about midnight of Tuesday, May 3 and 4. It had been a quiet march and he himself had crossed the Rapidan about in the morning It had not been believed that there would be an engagement that day. Lee was supposed to lie entrenched south of the Wilderness. He general staff had not thought that he would come out.

Digital Image, 2011, The Ida M. Tarbell Collection, 1890-1944, Allegheny College Pelletier Library.