

November 25, 1935

Miss Ida Tarbell,
120 East 19th Street
New York City

Dear Miss Tarbell:

The Modern Book Club of Gettysburg College is holding an exhibition of author's memorabilia from December 9 to December 12. The exhibition is being centered around Lincoln, and one of the items is a McClure's Magazine for 1895 which contains an article by you on Abraham Lincoln. This particular exhibit would be much more interesting and complete if you would be kind enough to write us a letter to go with the exhibit. Perhaps you would like to tell us how you came to write that particular article and the source of your interest in Lincoln.

This exhibition is planned to interest the students in reading and so far the results have been quite encouraging. Many people have responded and loaned us some very interesting material.

Hoping that I may hear from you soon and wishing you a pleasant Thanksgiving, I am

Sincerely

David Starry

David Starry

for the Book Club

214 Chambersburg Street
Gettysburg, Pennsylvania

Have in mind?