

April 26, 1932

My dear Mr. Scarborough:

It is pleasant to hear from you again. Of course I remember very well our correspondence at the time I was working on the Lincoln genealogy.

Thank you, too, for taking the trouble to call my attention to your correspondence with Mr. Haworth. Yes, Ira Haworth did write a biography of Abraham Lincoln. It is catalogued by Oakleaf as one of the best bibliographies still prepared as follows:

get
Haworth, Ira; Reminiscences about Abraham Lincoln. By Ira Haworth. Also an address delivered the Washingtonian Temperance Society at the Second Presbyterian Church, Springfield, Ill., February 22, 1842, by Abraham Lincoln. Published by the Kansas City Sun, 712 N. Sixth Street, Kansas City, Kansas.

I never saw a copy of it but I should be glad to get one. I shall try to follow it up.

Thanking you again for your trouble in putting me in touch with this item, believe me

Very sincerely

Mr. Henry W. Scarborough
