1939-01-01

Letter: Viola Roseboro' to Ida M. Tarbell

Roseboro', Viola

http://hdl.handle.net/10456/34907

The copyright owner of this item is unknown. It is the responsibility of the researcher to identify and satisfy the holders of all copyrights.

All materials in the Allegheny College DSpace Repository are subject to college policies and Title 17 of the U.S. Code.
Dear I M T:

Thank God that I have lived a little to justify my existence by helping, playing midwife in this chapter. You have bettered it beyond my vision. It crowns the whole book by gathering up into final expression the singularly ego-less of the whole book.

It is the plain fact that it sweetens my life to have re-read it.

Page 556

It is strange, strange, how unfamiliar is the expression of truths so mightily and so obvious that they are the very stuff of business. In other words there you have said an immortal mouthful.

Devotedly  Viola R