Dear P. M. G.

I would rewrite the manuscript sheet of mine here only to do that I'd have to keep it another day. I think you will make this a great last chapter. The markings are here & little to be J. S. L. read you had been re-writing it much of cutting. What of what I do the first half is a verbal pulling together, something not done after such that always has to be done after such work. Only you had not had time to let it ripole in thought and then give it the benefit of a fresh eye.
 That process now should help more than anything. I hope this book will help, that you've not been thinking of it

While it has been true.

When I grow rascally I may not be able enough to justify it but I think you can get something out of my dissatisfaction. I know it is not a full statement of a political philosophy you can make but but it is up to you what to look for - know where you are really wise; and as few words can show a vision that takes in complexities other than yours. You are of all people the one to suggest "somebody is too scarce that 'kussing' wants 'stuff' is too scarce among - I find getting in a mess + no room about. I would like to see for but I am thinking in it. But it is wonderful if I can be any good to you - means please me Thanks
