This year, Allegheny’s theme of the year was the Year of Social Change. Students, faculty, administrators, staff and community partners collaborated to make the year a great success. Among the activities, there were four keynote speakers Kathy Eldon, Greg Mortenson, Vandana Shiva, and Michael Pollan, all of whom participate in social change and came to Allegheny to share their experiences.
Student Organizations

Allegheny Student Government sponsored and participated in many events this year including Homecoming, the Meadville Halloween Parade, the Meadville St. Patrick's Day Parade, Springfest, and the Cinco de Mayo Boat Cruise. ASG also tackled many policies issues including work on the 2020 Strategic Plan.
Gator Activities Programming (GAP) works throughout the year to bring a variety of talent and activities to Allegheny. This year, GAP helped to plan events during Homecoming weekend Springfest, and Wingfest. GAP also brought to campus Blizzard of Bucks, Thinkfast Gameshow, several musical and entertainment performances, Survival Bingo, and the Movie on the Lawn event.

Grounds For Change (GFC) is a student run coffee shop led by a group of executive board members and student volunteers. GFC is a non-profit, environmentally friendly coffeehouse promoting the principle of sustainability. GFC hosts countless bands, art shows, and events for the entertainment for any students looking for a great drink.

Diversity

This year, ABC sponsored “The Awareness” Fashion Show as part of Martin Luther King Jr. Celebration Week. The Fashion Show featured the color red and addressed AIDS awareness.

Diversity is a vital part of the Allegheny community. The diversity groups on campus include ABC, A5 Association of Caribbean Students, International Club, Queers & Allies, and Union Latina. Each group hosts several events each year including the International Dinner, Drag Show, “The Awareness” Fashion Show, and many others.

Performing Arts

The performing arts groups work throughout the year to put on shows for the campus and local communities. The performance groups consist of several instrumental, vocal, dance and theatre performers. This year, the first ever Ballroom Dance Concert was held and choreographed by the Dance and Movement Studies department.
Religious Life

Student groups for Catholic and Protestant Christians, Jews, Muslims, and Unitarian Universalists provide fellowship for students of faith and deepen their engagement with their own faith traditions. Religious Life Council brings together students of different faiths through its annual Faith Week.

Media

All of the Allegheny media organizations work very hard on a day to day basis to provide the community with information and entertainment. The media groups include The Campus, WARC, ACTV and Overkill.
At the beginning of the year, students are given the opportunity to join different groups at the activities fair. This year the activities fair was held in the Campus Center and proved to be a successful for all the student organizations.

Student Life
"What's Your Flavor" was the theme of Wingfest. GAP served over 4,500 wings to the campus community in the span of several hours. Quaker Steak and Lube is always a hit!

On Saturday, October 17, more than 1,000 Allegheny students participated in Make A Difference Day. Projects included leaf-raking tasks, building ramps, roof repairs, and a project in which over 100 volunteers cleaned trash from a stream and others. This is the 16th year Allegheny students have been involved in Make A Difference Day.
The Homecoming theme for this year was "Small School Big Spirit." Activities began on Friday night, October 2, with an all-campus pep-rally in which students received t-shirts and showed support for their sports teams. This year the Gators played against Wabash. Unfortunately the Gators lost 3-37. The Cornerstone Award winners were recognized during the halftime ceremony. Overall Homecoming weekend provided students and alumni several opportunities to connect and show their school spirit.
The Office of Student Involvement worked with student organizations and staff to sponsor late night programming every Friday and Saturday night. The events this year ranged from creative crafts to dances, as well as several entertainment acts. This year, the Game Room organized "First Friday" in conjunction with the First Friday initiative in downtown Meadville. They extended the Game Room hours and held special raffles for students who had receipts from downtown businesses they had patronized that Friday.

Allegheny hosted the 6th Annual Relay for Life event on Saturday, April 24, 2010 at Brooks Walk. This year, Allegheny raised $23,290 with 45 teams and over 370 participants. The theme was "Re-lei for Life" featuring luau themed games and activities. Despite the cloudy weather, Allegheny had the highest amount of teams and participants ever!
This year’s souvenir t-shirts and cups featured a mock Vegas logo and dice.

The theme of this year’s Springfest was “Las Vegas: What Happens at Springfest Stays at Springfest” and featured a recreated casino in the Campus Center Lobby. Students could opt to have Elvis conduct a marriage between them and a friend (complete with candy ring pop), get a spray-on tattoo, have a silly picture taken, or gamble to get tickets for prizes.

We’re going to the chapel, and we’re gonna get married... by Elvis.

I’ve always wanted a tattoo... even if it’s airbrushed.
Each year Allegheny College recognizes those students and organizations who excel in areas of leadership and service activities at the Leadership Banquet. Honors Convocation

The Honors Convocation was held Tuesday, May 4, 2010 in Ford Chapel. Monica Colleen Schaffer (below), valedictorian of the Class of 2010, addressed the gathering where students and faculty were recognized for their outstanding achievements.
Senior Week 2010, sponsored by the ASG Class of 2010, created good times and fond memories for seniors. Registered seniors were welcome to attend the comp burning (this year comp shredding, due to the rain), the Senior Dinner and Gala, the Taste of Meadville, and the Tour of Meadville. Seniors enjoyed their last few days at Allegheny and socialized with their classmates around campus and in Meadville.
All our dreams can come true...if we have the courage to pursue them.

Walt Disney
"In remembering Professor Jennifer DeHart, as a friend, colleague and mentor, two expressions come to mind that get tossed around a lot, but were truly embodied by Jennifer: 'think globally, act locally' and the Golden Rule- 'do unto others as you'd have done to you'. What ties the two expressions together is respect and love. Jennifer cared so deeply for her environment and those inhabiting it, and she has left all of us better for having known her. We remember her every time we visit the Market House, seeing the literal fruits of her labor in the form of the thriving Farmers’ Market which she made happen. We think about her every time we have a great meal with local foods- enjoying good food, good wine and good friends. We are inspired by her determination and her strength in fighting the most evil of foes, cancer, and how she helped the rest of us to keep the hope, the optimism and most of all some humor in the face of everything. We remember the true meaning of friendship and selflessness when we think of how she wanted to know what was going on in all of our lives and always made the time to listen and to help. We feel her spirit in the satisfaction of a long day of hard work, in the sunshine, and in people’s smiles every day."

-- Lauren B. French, Assistant Professor of Biology & Neuroscience

Jennifer DeHart, Assistant Professor of Environmental Science, was a woman of passion and drive. In her nearly ten years at Allegheny, she shared her enthusiasm of sustainability and the environment with future generations of leaders. She taught courses on a variety of topics including climate change, environmental research methods and sustainable energy. Though she will be missed, her amazing efforts have left an indelible mark on our community.
The 2009-2010 Kaldron was completed with the help of many resources on campus. A special thanks to the Public Affairs office, Athletic coaches, and the Sports Information office. The photo submissions by students were greatly appreciated. A final thank you is given to the students and professional staff in the Office of Student Involvement for all of their help and support throughout the entire year. Congratulations to the Class of 2010! Enjoy your Kaldron!

The 2010 Kaldron was designed and completed using Josten's Yearbook Avenue on-line program. The book was published by Josten's Publishing Company, located in State College, Pennsylvania. Senior Portraits were taken by DaVor Photography. The Kaldron is provided as a gift to graduating members of the senior class.
