

1919-12-31

Manuscript page: Page 19, Woman - business

Tarbell, Ida M.

<http://hdl.handle.net/10456/38263>

©Allegheny College. All rights reserved.

All materials in the Allegheny College DSpace Repository are subject to college policies and Title 17 of the U.S. Code.

The woman is not going to lose her business in the world, but she does need to restate ^{her} problems, profession-alize ^{her} tasks and bring it up to date. It is the narrow idea of the family as an isolated social unit for the mutual pleasure and satisfaction of two people which threatens its future. My own judgment is that the education of women, their freer circulation in ^{the world} ~~life~~ and their ^{increasing interest in} ~~coming in contact and seeing~~ the social ^{problems} ~~problems~~ of the day insures the future of the family as nothing else that is going on at the present time. It is bound to open the minds of those who reflect to the fundamental character of the relations of this little group to the ^{whole} ~~future~~ social machine. ~~It~~ ^{Thus} ~~is~~ ~~In my judgment~~ this very dissatisfaction with certain conditions of the family means in the long run its enrichment. The great ~~enemy of the family is the attempt to isolate it, to limit its~~ ~~interests and ideas, to rule by authority rather than by intelligence.~~
 One often runs across a family that ~~is as illiberal as the average~~ liberal club. Open it up to the winds of Heaven and you get the most effective machine the world has ever known for social, educational or ethical purposes, and at the same time the surest institution for producing happiness and character.