

In the World of Politics:

It is more difficult to class up the account in the world of politics, if we measure by what women expected, than any other field. And this is natural because we have had so much shorter time with the vote.

See Page 11, "When the 19th Amendment was declared, etc."