

The St. Lawrence University
CANTON, NEW YORK

OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF WOMEN

June 11, 1931

My dear Miss Tarbell:

I am glad that you received the manuscript safely.. Thank you for the stamps which you sent and the gloves. The jam has not yet arrived but I know it will be very attractive and I appreciate your thinking of me.

I was greatly impressed by the description of the funeral of Mrs. Young. I could picture the old lady's serenity and the dynamic personality she must have had.

By the way, I had occasion this week to have a talk with Mr. Young about conditions on the campus. I think it will be fruitful. He said at the end that he had been working to improve the grounds and buildings here in the hope of strengthening the college and now he realized that other matters not connected with the plant must have attention. I felt sorry to trouble him when he looked so tired and almost ill but I knew that only he can bring about the improvements which are critically needed.

May I say that we all enjoyed having you with us and there are pleasant echoes of your visit from faculty and students. Personally, I feel that it has been a great privilege to know you.

Very sincerely yours,

Jane Louise Jones

JLJ/p

Miss Ida Tarbell
120 East 19th Street
New York, New York