Dear Miss Tarbell,

It seems a strange coincidence to have had "Owen D. Young's book come to me, as I had written three letters to Owen D. Young and one was answered and to the other two I have not received any reply. The first letter was in answer to his talk in behalf of Franklin D. Roosevelt over the radio. The second and third letters were written in behalf of pleading with him to help establish "Prayer Centers" throughout our N.Y. City one to be established at the City Hall, the others in various hospitals, etc., mentioned to him that Steinmetz had created through Electricity what the Spirit engine suggests we may do with Prayer as both may come under the same order, but one is a tiny satellite, the other the great Shining Sun. I had help establish about eight centers of prayer through various phases of my career.

as a psychic and the seer from the same source where Orson Welles received his information as reading between the lines. I assure you that Orson Welles’ parents or grand-parents had been far closer to thousands of the settlers that had established themselves in the west of the Rockies.

Of course I realize that a biographer has very little influence in this direction but I am willing to go along with you personally or impersonally and do tremendous spiritual good which can be wonders in helping to grow intelligence and reverence in a power that has never failed through all the ages and which then lived by you, John the Baptist, and Jesus Christ and his like sheeps and goats which ourselves abiding within the brief time they knew God, seek not them in prayer, as all are bound by God's chains to the feet of God.

Hoping that you can aid me in this project as your words may half millions of young Presbyterians

Sincerely yours
Ruth E. Abrahamson.
