Dear Mr. Case:

Thank you for your letter and the enclosures. You may depend upon me to regard them as confidential.

When you do have a little leisure I should be delighted to have a visit.

Also, when the time comes I should like very much to write a piece on the theme of the Robertson letter. It is a great theme, this doing the thing one feels himself best qualified to do and I know so fine an example of it today as your chief. So when the time comes -

I did so enjoy seeing Josephine the other day. How beautiful she is, and what a wonderful child this young Josephine Edmonds. When the Spring comes I am going to hold Josephine to her promise to let me run out and see the family as a whole!

Many thanks for your letter and believe me

Faithfully yours
