

October 9, 1930

Dear Mr. Case:

Thank you for your satisfactory letter. I take it that Mr. Young's consent to the project carries with it willingness to talk over with me freely - always at his own convenience, of course - the points which seem to me to need his comment and illumination. J

I am to be out of town until Tuesday of next week. Would it be convenient for you if I made the call at your office, which you so kindly suggest next Wednesday afternoon? (October 15th, say about 2:30) ee

Let me say, dear Mr. Case, that I am deeply gratified by your own attitude towards the undertaking. I shall try not to overburden you. I hope we can make the work pleasant for everybody concerned. I certainly enjoyed our talk the other day, quite as much as you were kind enough to say you did yourself.

Very sincerely yours

Mr. Everett Case
