

Young (Continued)

Rader

Case speaks of un<sup>solved</sup> problems and I take it that this may be an interesting side of the study. The one he is particularly interested in is the educational side of broadcasting. He says that broadcasting as a commercial proposition has been solved too well.