Dear, dear Theodora McCurdy:

How pleased I was to receive your letter from The College Club. Of course I like being eighty if it brings old friends knocking at my door. How well I remember those winters in Washington at Mrs. Patterson's; how well I remember your Mother and all that group, a group which meant so much to me and which did so much to shape my future life.

I do hope that you will look me up at Bethel some time. I am tucked away in a little corner, in a little house with some big trees and a brook. Of course I am not always there for I still am carrying on my profession rather diligently, so telephone before you come if you can - Trumbull 5 Ring 2-3. If that does not answer Ring 4. Then we can have a visit.

Thank you for writing me, dear Theodora. Sara will be so pleased, too, to hear about you.

Affectionately yours

Theodora F. McCurdy
