Dear Mrs. Drouet:

The piece for your Broadcast which I am sending is a little too long. I shall trim myself and cut it within the eight minutes.

As you see I have made it informal, touching the points that seemed to me would be most interesting to a radio audience.

If I have fallen into error you will correct me I know and if I have failed to include something you feel is vital let me know, and I will find a place for it.

Very sincerely
